Literacy Earth Day Poetry Contest!

Thank you to all teachers and students who participated! The poems were excellent and it was hard to choose a top 3.

The winners are Maia Anderson, Ivan Wu and Hailey Jang. You've all won a free double scoop of ice cream from Moscrop Scoops. To collect your prize, please see Mr. McAvoy in Room 121.

Maia Anderson

Terra Lumen
Ash-veiled spring exhales - ancient ice remember us while oceans rise still

Ivan Wu

A wind hums low through trees
A quiet song in the gentle breeze Rivers whisper, skies are wide Holding secrets we stand beside Tread with care let kindness grow Protect the Earth we've come to know

Hailey Jang

Dearest Earth (Our Home)
Sprung forth from the dark wreathed by skies so clear Engraved with greenery and punctuated with life
The sun climbs once more to cheer and celebrate The dearest home we've ever known

For years we have lived upon the Earth of a servant
Her namesake wells with teeming life Flowers married to jutting blades of grass and animals daring like arrows through mosaics of land Wave crushed shores greet iridescent fish and forest stand upright in stoic formation greeting birds and squirrels as they loop over and under their magnificence

Yet those same trees are met with screaming pyres and axes whetted by mending desire Oil clouds our sears like smog, the self-same murk that plagues our sky and follows the endlessly sprouting concrete jungles Pulverized may our Earth be should the cycle of sustainability be choked out

What becomes of a home we saw destroyed?
Today we wake and begin once more to comb the pollution that congests the Earth, to uproot the rot we've buried over countless years that poisons the dearest home we've ever known

COME ENJOY A FUN EVENING OF RUGBY! WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29

Starting at 6:15pm on April 29th, come to Burnaby Lake East, Field #2, to enjoy the social side of rugby!

The event is like Friday Night Lights, but rugby on a Wednesday. Each school team is encouraged to show up in an easy to make costume that can fit over the jerseys/shorts. The boys at Moscrop have gone with construction workers (a hi vis vest and a hat for some).

Bleachers will be moved to beside the field, in between the two fields so parents/fans may have good seats for the games. It is heavily encouraged that everyone wears bug spray.

This is a fun social event, and we are hoping to have an MC and music for the night as well. Hope to see you coming out with your family and friends to support! Ms. Dato
