STEM MENTORSHIP OPPORTUNITY!! (Great for Capstone Mentoring too!)

Girls SySTEM Mentorship is a non-profit organization based in Canada that strives to bridge the gap between men and women in STEM. We believe that early intervention at a young age is critical for young women interested in STEM. The program provides a space for encouragement and aims to increase diversity in the STEM workforce by pairing self-identifying young women in grades 7-12 (ages 12-18) with professional mentors from a diverse range of STEM fields. In doing so, mentees can gain first-hand knowledge of STEM early on, which we believe is vital in building the confidence to succeed in the future.

Some of the benefits of becoming a mentee include:

Free one-on-one mentoring with a professional in STEM

Access to monthly workshops and events to further your STEM interests

A platform to connect with other like-minded individuals

Applications to become a mentee for the 23/24 program year are now open.

Visit our website and apply to become a mentee: www.girlsystemmentorship.com.

Although our program targets self-identifying young women, it is open to students of any gender. We ask that mentees are able to commit 1-2 hours a month. Our program is hybrid; therefore, we provide virtual and in-person opportunities to accommodate everyone. Mentee applications close on September 15th, 2023.

Mentees will be paired with the mentor that we see most fitting based on shared interests and goals, hobbies, and overall compatibility. More information can be found on our website www.girlsystemmentorship.com.
